

November 2022

Thursday, November 17, 2022 6:58 PM

Meeting & Art-Making 7:02-8:56

8 Members present

Board Reports

- President's Report (Debbie Tobin)
  - Debbie is talking with the Chamber about getting more eyes on our artwork there, whether it is an opening or joining their summer festival again.
    - New show there has 48 pieces in.
  - Debbie is also talking with Moon Park about a plein air picnic this summer.
  - There is one table available at the Greens & Things market on the first Saturday in December if anyone is interested in selling their work there. The table is located in the entrance to the atrium.
- Treasurer's Report (Audra Zampogna - not present) current balance $4,162.44
- Membership Report (Helena Valentine) currently 44 paid members. Please let Helena know if you have any changes to your contact information.
- Programs Report (Kim Freithaler)
  - Tomorrow night is the opening of the holiday artisan market at the North Hills Art Center. Live music! Admission is free. This market runs until Dec. 10.
- Publicity / Communications Report (Lynda Kirby - not present) Reminder about the challenge this month - something that you love.
- Social Media/Multimedia Report (Jim Tobin - not present)
  - Lance Maloney video has 26 views already!

Member News / Call for Artists / Show and Class Announcements

- Join the Pennsylvania Art Education Association on December 11th from 2-4:30pm at the St. Nicholas church in Millvale to discover the beautiful murals by Maxo Vanka. Maxo Vanka was a Croatian immigrant and created extremely moving murals that conveyed topics of love, justice, and the immigrant experience. Use the EventBrite link to register.
<https://www.eventbrite.com/e/maxo-vanka-murals-teacher-workshop-tickets-462569908047?fbclid=IwAR37MSoiVA3-vGa5kyEW-x20xfK-kdw2FxDUGPIL4LOji8xYHLx2TiYLYl0>

Demonstration by Karen Nootbar

Karen is a native of the Midwest, although for the past 26 years she, her husband, and their daughter have called Pittsburgh home. Art has been a constant passion of hers since early grade school, and she's dabbled in all sorts of media. She used to call herself a "jack of all trades, master of none", but then she learned the word "multipotentialite" and liked the sound of that much better. She has experience teaching a variety of creative projects, including knitting, crochet, Shibori dyeing, needle felting, rubber stamping, and tapestry weaving.

